Cloud-Based Content Management Platform to Digitize, Transform and Automate Your Content

Companies today struggle to manage all the documents, content, and processes that drive their business – and for many organizations, that data is growing every year. Yet for a small to mid-sized business (SMB) or department, large enterprise systems are often inflexible, costly, and slow to implement. Explore a cloud solution that's straightforward and easily adapts to your business.

XEROX® DOCUSHARE® FLEX MAKES IT SIMPLE

Xerox® DocuShare® Flex Content Management Platform is a cloud-based software as a service (SaaS) application.

Designed to help SMBs and enterprise departmental teams easily manage and organize their business content and set up business rules to automate and drive common processes, it has the tools you need to help you manage your business effectively.

With its advanced capabilities, you can connect to line-of-business applications and create custom document types to support your unique departmental needs. Thanks to its cloud-based, intuitive design, deployment takes days, not months, and requires little to no IT support or employee training. Users can get started immediately.

Most importantly, DocuShare® Flex is highly scalable to meet changes in user numbers, storage space, and specific process requirements.

Securely Access Content and Manage Its Lifecycle

Xerox® DocuShare® Flex enables organizations to digitize, transform, and automate business processes, empowering a better, smarter, faster and more productive work-anywhere workplace.

Automates the review, management, and disposition of crucial documents to help better ensure that the appropriate employees protect and retrieve the right documents at the right time. Create retention policies that automatically enforce the proper standard niche protocols and enable your business to comply more easily with current laws and regulations.

With Xerox DocuShare Flex, easily manage the lifecycle of documents® efficiently from when they are created or updated to when they are no longer needed or destroyed. Automates critical time-based events such as document aging and related actions like date-based reviews and expirations. You can automatically enforce and manage document lifecycle events, including release, periodic review, and document retention.

DOCUSHARE FLEX LIFECYCLE MANAGEMENT ENABLES ORGANIZATIONS TO:

- Automate retention and periodic content review to ensure it is current and compliant.
- Automate timed-based events such as publication or expiration.
- Change the state or visibility of content based on specific dates.
- Ensure that users focus on needed, current content.
- Extend the scalability and optimize the performance of your content management system.

EFFICIENT BUSINESS PROCESSING

Xerox® DocuShare® Flex boosts productivity through user-friendly routing tools and automated workflows:

- Intuitive routing helps you create and manage tasks and escalate for non-responses
- Configurable task management to categorize your processing tasks
- Business rules designed for business-level use let you quickly automate processes
- Global business rules work across all folders and teams
- Automated periodic document review and disposition policies make lifecycle management simple
- Update external databases through business rules
- Business process automation enabling solutions such as contract management, accounts payable, and HR onboarding

THE POWER OF THE CLOUD

In addition to easy configuration and setup and the ability to scale, the cloud frees your IT staff from the burden of inefficient administrative management.

Additionally, there's no need to worry about security. Xerox follows industry best practices in cloud security processes, procedures, technology, and physical measures—from encrypted user authentication to scheduled backups, off-site storage, and site replication—to ensure the safety and availability of our customers' data.

Many processes in business use forms—yet paper forms are slow and inefficient. PDF forms for Xerox® DocuShare® Flex is an add-on that helps your organization go paperless and digital by letting workers capture information dynamically and on the fly, anywhere and from many devices in easy, fillable forms.

PDF forms capability can be designed by DocuShare Flex users using simple tools or templates, enabling workflows like:

- Collecting data – fill out the form (answer questions), click submit
- Filling out requests or giving approval– submit the form to initiate a process
- Executing a process like HR onboarding, registration, or e-government requests

Webforms can also trigger workflows, and can be saved, re-used and even chained together into consecutive automated processes.

Create a PDF Form to automate a process—in a snap.

Drag-and-drop fields to move them easily up and down, arranging them on the form.

Data Sources – Add auto-fill fields and pick lists of data values from CRM, ERP, and other company systems.

Palette – Select items to build and style your form, such as checkbox types, messages, images and logo.

Using PDF Forms to design and style forms for your unique business requirements will help users fill out forms more efficiently to trigger the right processes.
